

1968 DC Riots Documentary Project Seeking GWU Assistant Producers

The George Washington University Debate & Literary Society seeks GWU students interested in serving as assistant producers on the creation of an oral history archive and original documentary on the 1968 DC riots.

Assistant producers will conduct video interviews with DC residents who lived through the riots and will assist in researching and writing an original documentary combining these interviews with stock footage and topic expert interviews.

Interested students should email GWU Assistant Debate Coach Kyla Sommers at kyla.sommers@gmail.com.