

Research Days: A Showcase of Research, Scholarship, and Creative Endeavor
March 29 and March 30, 2016

Call for Abstracts

Undergraduate, graduate, and postdoctoral students are invited to showcase their work and compete for prize money at the 21st Annual Research Days. This event features poster presentations and keynote speakers and is dedicated to highlighting the breadth of research, creative scholarship, and cultural discovery being done at GW by students and postdoctoral researchers. Faculty and staff are encouraged to attend this showcase!

All abstracts must be submitted by February 28, 2016 and are required to have mentor or advisor approval.

- March 29th focuses on arts, business, education, engineering, humanities, law, sciences, and other topics.
 - Participants are required to present a poster or equivalent.
 - All undergraduates wishing to compete for prizes should present on this date.
 - Participants presenting community-based participatory research will be judged for the first-ever Nashman Research Award.
- March 30th focuses on health and medicine topics with participants from the School of Medicine and Health Sciences, the Milken Institute School of Public Health, the School of Nursing and the Biomedical Engineering program.
 - Residents, Institute for Biomedical Sciences students, researchers from Children's National Medical Center & the DC VA Hospital are invited to present their research on this day.
 - Participants not selected for oral presentation will be required to present a poster.

For more information, including abstract instructions, the abstract submission form, and sample abstracts, visit the Research Days website, contact resdays@gwu.edu, or tweet us @GWResearchDays.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

WASHINGTON, DC